"Grow Texas" is a combined effort by the business journals of Austin, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio and represents a look at the strength of the state's four economic powerhouses, all of which have experienced job growth and economic progress in recent years.

As our state continues to diversify economically and grow exponentially, in terms of population and jobs, these cities demonstrate leadership on multiple fronts, including fostering innovation, maintaining a high quality of life and supporting business.

Our four publications have come together to highlight some of the many factors that make our cities economically strong, from diverse populations to world-class cultural amenities to a legacy of free enterprise.

And, thanks to the financial support of the Greater Houston Partnership's Opportunity Houston, "Grow Texas" will be available free to all readers on each business journal's website for one month. Please take this unique opportunity to share "Grow Texas" with those you think would benefit from learning about our great state.

If you're already a Texan, we hope "Grow Texas" will inspire you to continue to grow your business and innovate. There's no better place to do so.

If you're not here yet, come enjoy some Southern hospitality. Like many of us, you just may decide to stay.
