Burger King tests home delivery service

Austin Business Journal

Date: Tuesday, January 17, 2012, 7:27am CST

Burger King Holdings Inc. is testing home delivery from four restaurants in the Washington, D.C., area.

The company has developed "thermal packaging technology" that prevents fries and burgers from going limp and soggy.

The restaurants charge a $2 delivery fee, according to the report, and minimum orders range from $8 to $10.
