

Sponsored by:

HBJ Morning Call

More and more California jobs come to Texas

Houston Business Journal

Date: Friday, January 20, 2012, 8:02am CST

California Governor Jerry Brown defended his state Wednesday following his State of the State Address against an assertion that Texas is stealing their jobs.

Brown acknowledged that many Californians are now calling Texas home.

More than 130 companies that are headquartered in Texas have some kind of presence here, including many tech-related companies.

Figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that California's unemployment rate greatly exceeds that of Texas, which sits at 8.1 percent.

Read More at

Fox News

Related:

Technology, Economic Snapshot
< Older posts Newer posts >